PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

A Multi-Talented Educator and Skilled IT Professional. For almost two decades, I have been teaching ICT and computer studies to both primary and secondary school students. But my skills don't just end there – I am also a multi-instrumentalist, continuously honing my musical talents through dedicated studies.

While I enjoy teaching, my passion extends beyond the classroom to music. I love listening to various genres, scoring songs in different parts, and indulging in music appreciation. Unlike technology, which inevitably becomes outdated, the timeless nature of music theory captivates me. I identify as tactile in technical terms.
